CAN'T KILL TIP.

Attempts to Poison the Man-Killing Elephant Unsuccessful.

He Devours Enough Cyanide of Potassium to Kill a Dozen Horses, But It Didn't Hurt Him.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Tip, the big, man-killing elephant, gave the park commissioners and favored medical men a great deal of anxiety today, and finally baffled them in their attempt to kill him. When, a few days ago, the conclusion was reached that the gigantic pachyderm was incorrigible and constantly becoming more vicious, means of ending his career were discussed. The conclusion was reached on Wednesday to kill him with poison, and cyanide of potassium was selected as the most likely drug to do its work quickly and painlessly.

Tip has been the object of much interest since his doom was announced, and visitors to his quarters in Central Park have numbered well up into the hundreds of thousands.

It was the intention to administer the fatal dose soon after daylight today, and in order that the task might be the easier, Tip was deprived of food for twenty-four hours. At 6 a. m. Park Commissioners Clauson, Straus and Bell, accompanied by Superintendents Smith and Burns, arrived at the arsenal in Central park. A few minutes later Drs. Huntington, Allen and Spitzka joined them. Tip was meanwhile swaying restlessly around in his cage and swinging his enormous trunk viciously. Tom, the trick elephant, and Juno, who occupied the adjoining cage, were driven out to the open space behind the elephant house and chained there, so that they would not be disturbed or frightened by the expected trumpeting of Tip when he would get his "pill." Thirty park policemen surrounded the building to keep the crowds away from the doors, and none but newspaper men and visitors who were armed with permits were allowed to enter the building.

At half past 6 o'clock everything was in readiness. To avoid possible accident all were excluded from the elephant house except those directly concerned with the momentous event. Exactly at 6:58½ a. m. Otto Mops, who has been for years an animal trainer both in Germany and this country, walked up to the cage and handed Tip a rosey colored apple which had a big dose of cyanide of potassium hidden within its surface. The big fellow nibbled at it for a moment with his trunk and finally put it in his capacious mouth. But when he crushed it between his teeth he evidently felt that there was something with the taste and spat it out. Mops then tried him with a carrott which was similarly drugged, but Tip refused to take it, as he did another apple and carrott which were passed to him afterwards.

Keeper Mops then gave Tip a piece of bread containing about two ounces of the deadly drug, but the big fellow, after munching it slowly a couple of times, threw it also on the floor. Tip undoubtedly had his misgivings about the dainty morsels which were being fed to him but the doctors said that he had certainly got enough poison into his system to kill a dozen horses. The drug did not seem to have very much effect on him until nearly an hour afterwards, when the violent motions of his head, body and trunk became less rapid and his legs seemed to be getting weak. This lasted only a short time, however, and then Tip regained his wonted vigor. It is not definitely decided what shall be done next, but the talk is still of finishing the work with poison, probably this afternoon.

NAMED FOR CONGRESS.

The Republicans of the Eleventh and Fifth Districts Select Candidates.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., May 11.—The republican congressional convention of the Eleventh district met in this city yesterday and nominated George W. Steele, of Marion county, for congress on the fifty-eighth ballot, the final vote being: Steele, 119; Peterson, 25; Kenner, 12; Good, 58.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., May 11.—In the republican Fifth district congressional convention yesterday there were four candidates in the field—Mayor O. B. Case, of Greencastle; Jesse Overstreet, ex-chairman of the district central committee; Enoch Fuller, ex-auditor of Monroe county, and David Beem, an attorney of Spencer. Jesse Overstreet, of Franklin, was nominated on the eleventh ballot. H. C. Duncan was named for senator to represent Monroe, Brown and Bartholomew counties.

GREENSBURG, Ind., May 11.—After being in session two days and a night and taking 813 ballots, the republican judicial convention held at Rushville to select a candidate for judge and prosecutor adjourned last evening without making a nomination. Each county had a candidate for judge, and each had seventeen delegates. Rivalry between the counties is such that neither would give in. Another convention has been called for June 5.

GOSHEN, Ind., May 11.—W. C. B. Harrison, of this city, was yesterday afternoon nominated as the republican candidate for joint representative for Kosciusko and Elkhart counties on the first ballot. Kosciusko county divided its vote equally between Harrison, of this city, and Hubbel, of Elkhart.

INSANE CONVICT.

Murders His Cellmate in Prison at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 11.—James Maher, a prisoner in the Bridewell, was murdered last night by his cellmate, George Dunlap, who became suddenly insane. Maher's head was beaten to a pulp on the stone floor before assistance could reach him. A terrific struggle took place between the guards and the mad man before he was overpowered.

CAMPING AT TOPEKA.

Governor Lewelling Easy With the Train Stealers.

He Calls a Mass Meeting to Discuss the Situation—Movements of Commonwealers Elsewhere.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 11.—The train-stealing Coxeyites brought to this city for trial have been given permission by the governor to camp on the state house grounds here. The governor, Mrs. Diggs and others, including Secretary Osborne and Superintendent of Public Instruction Gaines, held a conference, which resulted in this call being issued: "A meeting of citizens of Topeka, regardless of politics, will be held tonight at the court house to consider the problem of the unemployed who are on their way to the national capitol."

SPOKANE, Wash., May 11.—Major Johnstone, of this city, in command of the state cavalry, has received a telegram from the sheriff at Yakima, asking the authorities to call out the troops to quell the riotous proceedings of the commonwealers there. The request was referred to Governor McGraw for action. "Jumbo" Cantwell has assumed command of the Spokane commonwealers since the disgrace of Colonel Dolphin, who was court martialed by his men for his attempt to convert the army funds to his own use. The allied armies at this point now number 600 men.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 11.—Portland's Coxey army, which a week ago contained 660 men, has dwindled away and today it numbers less than forty. They are scattered along the Union Pacific in small squads between this city and Utah, riding on freight trains whenever they got a chance.

SACRAMENTO, Cala., May 11.—The last of the industrial armies has left the city. Colonel Barker and 500 men will go back to San Francisco, while the Oakland and Stockton regiments have gone east.

The County Commissioners favor decisive measures in dealing with the army and do not believe that they ought to be allowed to enter the city at all. They will hold a joint session with the city board of public safety tomorrow morning.

THE ENGINEERS.

Grand Chief Arthur Delivers His Annual Address.

The Young Members Endeavor to Break Down Some Old Rules—The Ladies' Auxiliary.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 11.—There was something of a fight in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' convention today, the younger and more liberal element trying to break down some of the conservative rules that have prevailed for many years. Grand Chief Arthur's formal annual address was delivered today in executive session. The fight over the rules resulted in some changes, but none of great importance. This afternoon the ladies' auxiliary held an open session in the Metropolitan opera house, for which the engineers adjourned their business session. The regular convention sessions are held behind closed doors, the news coming through a reticent press committee.

DIVORCE AND MARRIAGE.

One Couple Tires of Married Life and Another Commences It.

County Clerk Souder has give Justin Wire and Barbara Sorg a license to assume the matrimonial bonds.

Breeding Farm.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 11.—Mr. J. E. Kittson, of Philadelphia, the millionaire son of the late Commodore Kittson, has leased the Lisle farm, two miles from Lexington, and will establish a breeding farm thereon. Mr. Kittson has twenty-two fine thoroughbred brood mares, among them Spinaway, the dam of Lazarone and Handspun.

Irish National League.

LIVERPOOL, May 11.—The Irish National league of Great Britain will hold a convention here tomorrow; there will be a demonstration of the league on Sunday and a banquet on Monday.

Frank Hamilton, aged thirteen, and Orrville Adams, aged sixteen, stole a horse and buggy from one William Spence, of Hartford City, Monday night, and driving to this city were arrested on East Washington street about 5 o'clock last night by Officer Paul. They had put up the rig at Chris Ulmer's stable on East Main street. The boys arrived here yesterday noon, and after putting up their rig went to a vacant house at No. 122 Hanna street, where they kept in hiding. They spent the night at the station, and were taken back to Hartford City this afternoon.

MAD RUSH FOR GOLD.

The Citizens of Australia Nearly Crazed by Excitement.

The Discovery of a New Field, Rich With the Precious Metal, Drains the Country of Laborers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 11.—The most important news received from Australia by the steamer Alameda, deals with the rush to the new mining camps of Cool Gardi, in West Australia, and of Wyalong, in New South Wales. Many districts of New South Wales have been drained of labor by the wild rush to the Wyaland gold fields. This new district is in the northern end of Gippys county. The gold lies in reefs. Early in March there were 3,000 people on the ground, and the number has since been swelled several hundred daily. On March 30 it had reached 8,000. The nearest settlement, thirty miles distant, is in a fearful condition, and the water supply is bad. The camp swarms with men who have had no experience in mining and who fall ready victims to sharpers. Others who have no means and who expected to get work have crowded in. They are practically destitute and the government will have to help them out. Whether the mines will fulfill the first promise time alone will tell. The field will probably consist of a main backbone of volcanic formation of uncertain length, trending northwest by north and crossed by numerous feeders, principally of quartzite and iron stone running northeast by southwest, but what portions of the main reef and of the feeders, besides those already found, carry payable gold, is a question that remains to be discovered, and only strenuous, persistent labor can solve.

TRYING THEIR SPEED.

Some Racers Make Good Time at Gravesend.

Walcott & Campbell's Diablo Travels a Mile and a Quarter in 2:15 1-2.

NEW YORK, May 11.—It was unusually late today when the thoroughbreds at Gravesend were gotten out upon the track for exercise. Walcott & Cambell's Diablo, a handicap favorite, was given 1¾ miles spin, Sloan in the saddle. Starting off at an easy gait, his speed was increased as each quarter pole was reached. His first mile and a quarter was run in 1:18½, the mile and a half in 3:00 and the full mile and three-quarters in 3:12½. He pulled up fresh and strong in spite of the last eighth being sprinted in 12¼ seconds. Loantaka was given a strong mile and a half gallop. Ajax breezed three-quarters in 1:18½. He will probably receive strong work later on. Dr. Rice galloped a slow two miles, and then breezed a quarter through the stretch in 24¼ seconds. Clifford cantered and galloped about three miles, and then with head swinging, was sent half a mile in 51½ seconds. Jenning's Mary Stone and Ben Lonard traveled a mile nice and handy in 1:49. Shelly Tulley is rapidly coming around to form and worked five furlongs at an even gait in 1:09½. Integrity did a good seven furlongs in 1:33. Now or Never a mile under a pull in 1:50.

CONVENTION CLOSED.

The State Meeting of Congregational Ministers Ended.

Last night witnessed the closing proceedings of the convention of Congregational ministers of Indiana, which has been in session here since Tuesday. At the meeting last evening the principal address was delivered by the Rev. W. F. McMillen, of Chicago, and was accorded the close attention it merited. The Rev. J. W. Wilson, of Indianapolis, occupied his time profitably, giving Christian Endeavorers many valuable hints from his own experience. Dr. Hyde, of Indianapolis, led in the six minute addresses and was followed by others. The convention adopted resolutions thanking the people of this city for the handsome manner in which the attending delegates were entertained.

TOLEDO TELEPHONES USELESS.

Exchange Destroyed by Fire, Employes Having Narrow Escapes.

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 11.—Messenger boys will be in demand here for some days to come, as the Telephone Exchange was destroyed by fire at 9 o'clock last night. Several of the young lady employes had narrow escapes. The damage to the building is small.

Cottonseed Oil Men Organize.

WACO, Texas, May 11.—The independent cottonseed oil men met here yesterday and organized what will be hereafter known as the Cottonseed Crusher Association of Texas. It represents every independent oil mill in the state, or about 60 per cent., and is strictly anti-trust. Dr. Dabney, of Bonham, was elected president; H. L. Scales, Corsicina, vice president; R. K. Irwin, Itasca, secretary, and F. Calher, Dallas, treasurer.

Newmarket Races.

LONDON, May 11.—At Newmarket today the race for one thousand guineas stakes, for three-year-old fillies, carrying eight stone, twelve pounds each, was run and won by the Duke of Portland's Amiable, by St. Simon, out of Tactic. The course was the Rowley mile.

Attacks Apportionment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 11.—At the instigation of the populists of this state, it is announced that Judge W. S. Blair, of Jefferson county, has decided to attack the constitutionality of the senatorial apportionment acts of 1893 and 1872. He has selected the Sixteenth district, consisting of Jefferson, Hamilton and White counties, under the apportionment of 1872.

ANOTHER BIG STRIKE.

Two Thousand of Pullman's Employes Quit Work.

The Other Half of the Force Also Dissatisfied and Threaten to Walk Out.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Two thousand employes of the Pullman Palace Car company quit work today. Those who went out asserted that the entire force of 4,300 people would be on a strike before night. The trouble has been brewing for some time, the men demanding the restoration of a 33⅓ per cent. cut in the wages made last year. The officials of the company refused the demand and asserted that they were running the plant at a loss for the purpose of giving the men employment. Vice President Wickes and other officers of the company were at the works today investigating the charges made by the employes' committee and they were entirely unprepared for the sudden seriousness that the situation had assumed. The men marched out quietly in groups, and for a time the officers thought that the strike was confined to the disaffected few who had decided to move without waiting for the decision of their superiors. What had suddenly precipitated the strike was not known, as the men and company officers at Pullman were not known to have had any further conference, and matters were supposed to be in the condition in which they were left at the close of the conference Wednesday, when it was thought that the men had decided not to strike.

A JOINT SESSION.

The New City Administration Gets Down to Business.

James Liggett Chosen Superintendent of Police—Comptroller Simonson Qualifies and Files His Bond.

The new city officials, who went to Indianapolis, returned yesterday afternoon and were much pleased with the workings of the charter of that city, which they went to inspect.

This morning the board of public works and the board of safety held a joint session. Mayor Oakley and Comptroller Simonson were present. For the past few days the city's affairs have been at a stand still and it became very necessary that the new administration got down to work. Routine business was transacted this morning and arrangements made to pay off city employes who need their money. Comptroller Simonson qualified and filed his bond in the sum of $25,000.

The boards brought with them from Indianapolis a number of blanks and other necessary forms.

A method of procedure for city work was among the useful information gathered by the members of the board having this matter in charge. Under the new charter nearly all the authority in street improvement lies with this board and the council merely votes the appropriations.

Tonight the board of safety will meet with Chief Hilbrecht and discuss matters pertaining to the fire department. The chief will not be removed. Some twenty-five new men will have to be employed for the new engine houses.

Superintendent of Police Leggitt will take his new position tonight, and Chief Wilkinson will remain until a new captain is selected.

A member of the board of public works stated this morning that he felt sure a larger clerical force would have to be employed, as at Indianapolis the board of public works had eight clerks, while here one man, A. J. You, was doing the work of both boards so far, but it was a hard task.

LIGGETT APPOINTED.

As predicted in THE SENTINEL several days ago, at a meeting of the board of public safety, held at 5 o'clock last evening, James Liggett was appointed superintendent of police and his appointment handed to Mayor Oakley by the board.

Mr. Liggett was born in Carroll county, Ohio, August 25, 1843. He became a resident of this state at the age of nine years. He learned the trade of a carriagemaker, at which he worked until the breaking out of the war. In August, 1862, he enlisted in company H, Seventy-fifth Indiana volunteers. He served until the close of the war, participating in the battles of Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, the battles between Chattanooga and Atlanta, and the capture of that city and the march to the sea.

Mr. Liggett is past grand of Harmony lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F., and is at present commander of Sion S. Bass post, of this city. During the campaign just closed he was chairman of the republican city committee.

HOOSIERS FIXED.

Two of Them Appointed to Good Offices.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—H. O. Homan, of Indianapolis, has been appointed superintendent of building and property clerk in the printing department. W. S. Edmunds was appointed foreman of the second division of the document room at a salary of $2,000. O. W. Downey, late editor of the Butler Review, who is here, will be given a case in the printing office July 1, through the influence of Representative McNagny.

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING.

Prominent Citizens Tell Why They Believe in the Y. M. C. A.

Joint Gathering of the City and Railroad Departments—A Good Attendance—Interesting Exercises.

The assembly room of the city Y. M. C. A. was well filled last evening, the occasion being the semi-annual, joint meeting of the railroad and city departments.

The evening's entertainment opened with singing, lead by Secretary McCaughey, after which President S. F. Bowser delivered a brief address, stating the objects of the meeting. It was the purpose, he said, to have representative members speak upon the topic, "Why I Believe in the Young Men's Christian Association" from the standpoint of their own avocation in life. President Bowser said that from the standpoint of a manufacturer he was convinced that the Y. M. C. A. was a grand thing. Early in life a fellow workman had said to him: "O, what's the use of being so particular with your work, it will be all the same a thousand years from now." No employer wants this kind of a young man about his place of business. He wants clean, bright, honest, energetic employes who earn their money, and just these kind of young men can be found in the Y. M. C. A.

Music by the Y. M. C. A. Mandolin club followed President Bowser's remarks, and their first selection was so well appreciated that they were encored. C. H. Newton came next on the program with a paper entitled: "Relations Most Helpful to the Department." He said that in June of this year the Y. M. C. A. of the world would celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its establishment and that George Williams, the founder, might well look back over the first half century of the organization with a sense of pride and gratitude at the wonderful work done by the association in that length of time. The speaker urged continued fraternity between the two departments—railroad and city—and closed with the hope that the good old motto, "Blest be the tie that binds" might be particularly applicable to the members of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Newton was followed by a song by Dr. W. F. Schrader, who was accompanied on the piano by his sister. Dr. Schrader was loudly applauded and called back.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of C. D. Law, who was on the program for a five minutes' address from the standpoint of a railroad man, his address was read by E. S. Philley. Mr. Law's paper was clear and direct in its statements, forcibly emphasizing the fact that a railroad official of high standing had only the most flattering opinion of the work being done by the association. He said that to be a member was to hold a higher place in the community and be a better citizen, both spiritually and physically. For the physical culture features of the association he had only the warmest praise.

Pastor Northrop came next with his usual happy and forcible methods of expression. He said he believed in the Y. M. C. A. because it fought the devil seven days in the week, instead of one. He believed in it because it was up and abreast of the times, being directly in touch with those things dear to the young man's heart. He believed in the ministry touching elbows with the people and particularly with the young man. He remembered well when he was afraid of a minister, and ran to the garret every time one came to the house.

W. D. Page, editor and proprietor of the Daily News, followed, and stated at the beginning of his remarks that he had not understood he was to speak from the standpoint of an editor, but that his remarks must be of a general nature. He spoke of the great good which the Y. M. C. A. had done for Fort Wayne, and how the association kept abreast of the stirring, busy times of the nineteenth century. How it qualified the young man for the duties of life, not only in the mind and spirit, but in body as well. He said that he owed a Christian life to the fact that late in his career a voice had came from the Y. M. C. A. A member of the association had called upon him and asked him the question: "Are you leading a Christian life?" The question rang in his ears and could not be driven out. Although brought up in a home full of the sweet influences of Christianity, he felt that he had not lived as he should. The question put to him by this member of the Y. M. C. A. continued to ring in his ears until it sounded the death knell of his past life—the scales fell from his eyes, and he saw the future in another light. "This was why he was here tonight, and why he believed in the Y. M. C. A."

Dr. W. T. Ferguson followed in an enthusiastic and earnest strain as a physician. He said that the young men who were members of the Y. M. C. A. seldom came to his office, from the fact that they usually had sound bodies and minds, but when they did come they always paid their bills. He said that although he did not wish to make a matrimonial bureau out of the Y. M. C. A., yet he believed every good Christian father and mother would feel perfectly safe in entrusting their daughter to the care of a young man who belonged to the Y. M. C. A.

From the standpoint of a mechanic, Wm. Myers spoke of how he had been helped by the association and how, when a young man and far away from home, he felt the needs of just such an institution. "Boarding houses," said he, "furnish but little that is elevating for the young workman, and the Y. M. C. A. steps in and exactly fills the want. It is a glorious institution."

From the standpoint of a young man, John Crowe spoke next. He argued for the physical culture department of the association and said that he believed this should receive fully if not more than half the attention of all the other features of Y. M. C. A. work. His remarks were well received and he was loudly applauded.

E. F. Yarnelle was unavoidably absent on account of illness, although down on the program to represent the merchant. At the conclusion of the exercises Rev. Nelson dismissed the meeting with prayer and light refreshments were then served.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of Attorney W. B. Denney his address was not delivered.

THE POLITICAL POT.

Many Candidates Out for County Offices in Both Parties,

And They Are Making a Hustling Campaign to "Get There"—Their Names Given.

Now that the interest which centered around the city election has to a great extent subsided, county politics engages attention and is assuming a fever heat phase among the voters both in the city and the country districts.

Not only is this true with the democrats, but it is also the case among the republicans, for they think they see in the tenor of the times something that gives them the hope of being able to overcome the old-time, reliable democratic majority in the county and thus elect some of the candidates, at least, on their party ticket. For weeks and months the democratic candidates for the various offices have been in the field traversing the wards and townships of the county soliciting votes and fixing up their delegates for the county convention, which meets in this city on the 2nd day of June.

Those seeking the nominations for the various offices on the democratic ticket are: Senator, John F. Kolnbaugh; superior court judge, C. M. Dawson; circuit court judge, Edward O'Rourke and Charles H. Worden; prosecuting attorney, E. V. Emrick, N. D. Doughman and P. W. Schadden; clerk of court, Jacob Kern, Harry M. Metzger and John B. Monning; auditor, William Meyer, jr., Clarence W. Edsall, James C. Peltier and Dr. J. M. Schutt; treasurer, L. C. Hunter, William Scott and A. R. Schnetker; recorder, Louis Hazzard, Patrick Ryan, George W. Fickel and Frank DeLaGrange; sheriff, Edward F. Clausmeier; coroner, Dr. Maurice Harrod; surveyor, Charles W. Branstratter; commissioners, Gottlieb Schafer, S. F. Baker, M. A. Ferguson, William W. Treese, David McCrury, J. W. Stellhorn, George Gogglein.

Among the republicans there are not so many candidates, but they are more numerous than is generally the case, for usually the places on their county ticket go begging for candidates, but this year the candidates are seeking the nominations and already, though their convention will not be held for some weeks yet, there is quite an animated contest. The candidates so far mentioned are: Circuit court judge, S. R. Alden; supreme court judge, J. B. Harper; prosecuting attorney, H. H. Hanna; auditor, J. K. McCracken, W. L. Petit and Prof. N. H. Leonard; clerk, E. W. Cook, Edward Craw and Dr. L. A. Worch; treasurer, August Detzer and A. R. McCurdy; recorder, John Slater and E. S. Underhill. The list, it is altogether probable, will be largely increased before the convention is held, for it includes all city men and, without a doubt, the country townships will come out with several candidates for the various offices.

From the above resume of candidates it will be seen that the conventions of both parties will be interesting and that the contests there will be animated. The political campaign that follows them will be hotly contested, and in order to enter the fight that is sure to come, well equipped, the democracy should, at their county convention on the 2nd of June, nominate their best and strongest men as candidates for the various offices to be filled.

A GREAT RAILROAD.

The New Air Line to Connect Chicago and New York.

Fort Wayne Can Secure the Main Shops of the Company by Voting an Appropriation of $150,000.

For nearly thirty years an air line trunk railroad from New York to Omaha has been talked of. It was to be built on the forty first parallel of longitude, upon which New York and Omaha are situated, and which is a few miles to the south of Fort Wayne. In a lecture delivered in Fort Wayne by the eccentric George Francis Train some twenty-five years ago, he described this line as nature's well planned route to connect by rail the two greatest cities on the American continent—New York city, the entrepot of the nation, and Omaha, the geographical center of the union, the future capital and the great distributing point of the whole country. He declared that actual surveys had established the fact that a railroad could be built upon this line at a less expense than upon any other leading from the west to the east; that there were no serious obstacles to overcome, and that a railroad could be built on almost an air line, with no such grades as were met with on the other railroads. He quoted the sayings of distinguished engineers and railroaders to prove his point. He remarked for the edification of his Fort Wayne audience that the citizens of this place could share in the glory of both New York and Omaha, in that Fort Wayne would be equally distant from both, and, with the rapid transit then made possible, but a few hours' ride from either. It is true, George Francis Train was a crank and it is quite likely his predictions of Omaha's greatness may never be realized, but what he said of the natural advantages for building a railroad on the line described, was not prophesy, but simply the statement of well authenticated facts that could be as truthfully stated by a crank as by a sage. Edgar Thompson, the former president of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, and our own former fellow citizen, long a director of the same road, Jesse L. Williams, made the same statements of facts and prophesied that the road would be built, and when it was it would be the superior of any of the other east and west lines. If this road is built it will be with the distinct purpose of through business with low grades and few curves. It will shorten the distance from Chicago to New York 132 miles, will bring the citizens of these two places four hours nearer together and the freight of the two cities can be exchanged twelve hours quicker. Being an air line to Omaha, it will carry the through freight and passenger business to the far west. It will carry the fast mails. It will be of a new type, in fact, a modern, a many tracked, a great railroad. The old lines of railroads now doing the through business were built at a time when there was little through business to the far west. They depended mostly on local traffic, and hence sought out the large towns and meandered here and there to reach them. If one will take a map and try to follow the lines of any of the great roads from Chicago to New York he will see the truth of this statement. The demand for quick transportation is putting all of the old roads to their mettle, and they are spending millions annually to reduce their grades and to cut out the sharp curves. The long meandering curves and the distance they cannot cut out in any way except by building entirely new roads, which they cannot. They can perhaps prevent the building of any other road that is shorter, and while rivals in all things else in one thing they are a unit and that is the joint purpose of preventing an air line competition. For thirty years this purpose has prevailed, and the rival air line is not yet built. Every few years some bold promoters who had not counted the force of combined railroad interests has made the attempt to build the road, when of a sudden he has felt his supports weaken and finally his financial props entirely give way. Will the road ever be built? That is the question that concerns us. Sixty-six miles is built and is now operated. A contract for two hundred miles more is now let and will be built this summer, taking the road across the entire state of Ohio. Seventeen miles will be built on this end this summer, bringing it to Fort Wayne, when two hundred and eighty miles of this road will be completed. The great Astor estate owns that part of the road now completed and has made the contract to build the two hundred miles more to the east of Findlay. The Astors have never before been engaged in railroads. This is their first venture. They are not entangled with the other roads. They have plenty of money to build the entire line without outside help. The manager of the great estate which has a reputed income of $12,000,000 per year, says they will build the road and make it the greatest road in the union. Will it be built? There is every probability it will be, every argument is in its favor. Shall Fort Wayne, equally distant from Omaha and New York, have the main construction and repair shops of this road and have here its general office buildings? In consideration of $150,000 they are promised us.

Extradition of an Anarchist.

LONDON, May 11.—The extradition of Charles Meunier, the anarchist who is wanted by the French police on the charge of complicity in the Cafe Very explosion in Paris, was ordered today by Sir John Bridge, the chief magistrate, in the Bow street police court. The magistrate, however, allowed Meunier seventeen days within which to file an appeal.

DUE NEXT THURSDAY.

Randall's Army Will Reach Here on That Day.

The General's Marching Plans Made Known to a Friend of "The Sentinel"—Must be Fed.

Randall's grand army of unemployed will reach this city next Thursday or Friday, and Fort Wayne citizens can be prepared to receive them in some manner, for it is quite certain this army, unless fed by private or public funds, will go to foraging on the wholesale. Hungry men do not, as a rule, argue fine points of morality with their stomachs, and the rank and file of the Randall contingency are no exception to the rule, if the press dispatches are to be relied upon.

THE LEADERS MEET.

From a perfectly reliable source it is learned that General Randall will arrive at Goshen on Monday and camp at Milford the same night. Tuesday they march to Warsaw and camp; Wednesday they are billed for Columbia City and Thursday for this city. It is quite likely they will be delayed somewhat and may not reach here before Friday or possibly Saturday, the 19th.

Accompanying the army are a number of newspaper correspondents, who are riding bicycles and having great sport. The agents of General Randall have already been in the city and determined upon a camping location west of the city near the Lindenwood cemetery, although the "general" may see fit to camp nearer the base of supplies, if allowed by the authorities.

Fort Wayne will have to feed these hungry men, and the board of public safety is confronted with a serious problem at the very beginning of its career. Just what they will do is not now known, as the matter has only been before the board in an informal manner. It is quite likely, however, that the army will not be allowed to enter the city limits. About thirty unemployed men will meet the army here and join them in the march to Washington.

BOY RUN DOWN.

Danny Beers Hurt by a Careless Driver—Other Casualties.

Yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, Danny, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beers, of East Berry street, was riding his bicycle near the corner of Berry and Harrison streets, when he was run down by a careless driver who drove on without stopping to see whether the little fellow was hurt or not. The lad was carried into the Randall Bicycle Co.'s establishment. He was badly bruised but not dangerously hurt.

Yesterday afternoon, just before the storm, the omnibus of the transfer line dropped a wheel on Columbia street near Calhoun. Two men in the 'bus were nearly thrown out. They compelled the driver to go to the barn, get another 'bus, back up to the door of the disabled vehicle and transport them a half square to the Randall, their destination.

The storm which came up so suddenly yesterday afternoon almost resulted in an accident which might have been fatal. Frank Nagel, son of the well-known furniture man, while driving to the stable with the delivery wagon, had just passed a huge tree, when it was blown down by the wind, falling with terrific force. It was a narrow escape for the young man.

Sylvester Gaylord, of No. 265 South Hanna street, ran a large spike through his left foot last evening while at work on James Wilding's house, No. 202 West Wayne street. He will be laid up for two weeks or more. Dr. Ladd is attending.

Yesterday afternoon just before the storm a young man was attacked by a ferocious dog in front of the Home billiard hall. The animal had the man by the wrist and had to be beaten off.

There will be 183 delegates in the democratic county convention.

Politics promises to be pretty red hot in Allen county this year.

Tomorrow's Sentinel will contain a number of interesting special articles.

The days of political conventions are now at hand, and there will be lots of them.

Tomorrow the republican county central committee will fix the date of holding their county convention.

How quickly the people of our city got down to Standard time. Almost everybody is going by it now.

Bill Nye will talk about hotels and hotel customs in tomorrow's Sentinel. It will be humorous and interesting.

The Sentinel informs an inquiring correspondent that the democratic majority in this county in 1892 was 3,890.

Several of our American colleges have passed the century mark in their history. Tomorrow's Sentinel will contain an interesting article on this subject.

The London Daily News refers to Coxey as "an eloquent member of congress from the west." Those London editors do not seem to be very well posted on American affairs.

Japan has taken measures to prevent the emigration of its people to other countries. Henceforth no subject of Japan will be permitted to go to any country where his coming will be in violation of the laws of that country. The Japs have never emigrated in large numbers, but it it said that some have been drawn away by tramp ships which offer cheap transportation rates and hold out false promises of employment at large wages.

The reports of the trade of Hawaii for 1893 are published. The United States received over ninety-three per cent of the entire trade of the islands, and eighty-three per cent. of it was carried by American vessels. The exports of the islands amounted to $10,742,658, being $2,750,000 more than in 1892. San Francisco secured over $1,000,000 of Hawaii's foreign purchases, and of the 3,889 passengers who arrived at and departed from Honolulu, all except 500 passed through San Francisco. These figures show the closeness and importance of our country's relations with the islands.

The women of Osborne county, Kansas, have organized behind closed doors with a grip and password to promote the interests of woman's suffrage. The organization is a secret one, "and," says the hopeful correspondent, "it is expected that the organization will spread all over the Sixth district"—in which event wonders will never cease. If the women can keep a secret and not let the tyrant man into their plans before that organization spreads over a territory larger than a New England state, then precedents should be thrown into the Smoky Hill. The chances are that some blarneying wretch of a man will wheedle it all out of some trusting woman, and when it is out suspicion will break up the whole business.

The final report of B. F. Havens, Indiana World's Fair executive commissioner, has been issued. It shows that the total cost of the Indiana building to the taxpayers was $57,162.60, the contributions making the total value $67,368.50. The amount expended by the board of managers was $122,241.03, the per diem of the managers being $5,436.03. The balance in the hands of the treasurer is $4,788.80. The public schools of the state contributed $5,781.20 to the penny fund. The total number of awards to Indiana exhibitors was 278. These were distributed to nearly every department of the fair. About 152,000 people from this state attended the fair who registered at the Indiana building. Mr. Havens estimates the total number from Indiana at 300,000.

A Pointer to Travelers.

While Mr. T. J. Richey, of Altona, Mo. was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by druggists.

Saturday's Sentinel is always the most interesting of the week, and it will be so tomorrow.

A Dairyman's Opinion.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have used it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

William Boron, of Chicago, division freight agent of the Pittsburg, started out from Crestline this morning to visit all the important points on his division. He is accompanied by Superintendent C. D. Law and Trainmaster J. W. Clark.

A new Nickel Plate time card goes into effect on Sunday, May 20. The only change will be in trains 5 and 6. The former will arrive in this city at 4:45, instead of 5:25, and the latter will come in at 5:45 instead of 6:25 p. m. These trains will pass each other at Packertown, Whitley county.

Last night the employes of the Pittsburg machine shop organized a foot ball team, which includes eight men who have distinguished themselves on the foot ball field. The boys will practice during the summer and will be open for engagement when the season arrives. They will be uniformed.

Harry Miller, the new superintendent of the Vandalia line, is already introducing Pennsylvania ideas. The position of roadmaster has been abolished and supervisors appointed, M. Richey retiring as roadmaster, and William Byrkit and J. A. Jones have been appointed supervisors. By this change the company gets two men to look after the tracks for the same salary that a general road master gets.

In a game of base ball tomorrow afternoon the men in the tool department of the Wabash shop will be arrayed against those in the erecting department. The latter style themselves the "hard hitters" and in speaking of the tool men they call them the "kids." It is generally conceded, however, that the "kids" are the best ball players and that they will knock the conceit out of the "hard hitters" with neatness and dispatch.

The National Freight Agents association will hold a four days' session this year at Pittsburg, commencing June 9. Those Fort Wayne people who will be in attendance are Messrs. R. B. Rossington, C. H. Newton and E. S. Philley, who will be accompanied by their wives. Short excursions have been arranged for the delegates to all the big iron and steel works and coal centers within a radius of 100 miles of Pittsburg. This is a new feature to the meetings of the association, and it will no doubt be very interesting and instructive to the agents.

The cause of President Ingall's abandoning putting on the new fast train out of St. Louis was that the New York Central refused to haul a car from this train on the Empire State express between Buffalo and New York, claiming that they could not make the time were another coach added, but the Central offered to reserve a certain number of seats on the Empire State express for such a connecting train. This had more, really, to do with his deciding not to put on the train than did the fact that no line east of Kansas City would run to connect with it.

Indianapolis Journal: "An attorney who is well informed regarding the case says that, did the Wabash company choose, they could give the Logansport people prosecuting the Eel River road case some lengthy and expensive litigation, but the Wabash people care so little for the road they will hardly do so. Since the Wabash built its Detroit extension the Eel River branch is much less important, and it need not be a surprise if the Wabash quietly surrenders possession of the Eel River road. In that case the Pennsylvania or the Lake Shore might, if favorable terms could be had, come into control of it."

Charles L. Cole, general freight agent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, passed through this city on No. 2 last night. In conversation with a well known local railway man, who was on the train, Mr. Cole said that he believed the railways were on the eve of a great traffic boom. He bases his belief upon the fact that the coal strike will be settled at Cleveland next Tuesday; that the supply of coal in manufacturing and railway centers and fuel stations on the lakes and rivers is nearly exhausted and that when the miners once get settled down to business the movement of coal and coke will be immense. There is also signs of activity in the iron trade.

Kentucky Miners Return to Their Respective Positions.

The Coke Workers Again Assume a Threatening Attitude—A Striker Arrested.

Middlesborough, Ky., May 11.—All miners at Mingo, Reliance, Bryson Mountain and Fork Ridge mines went in this morning. This breaks the backbone of the strike in this section.

Scottdale, Pa., May 11.—Eight thousand coke workers attended a meeting at Ellsworth park today and resolved to stand firm for their demands. After adjournment the strikers started for Moyer to take possession of the grounds which they claim to have leased. About 100 deputies are on guard, and as both sides are firm, serious trouble is feared. Warrants were issued today for the eviction of twenty-five families, and they will be served at once.

Peoria, Ill., May 11.—President John Ford, of the United Mine Workers' union, of this city, is in jail. Last night a gas bomb was exploded in the northwest part of the city. No one was hurt, but great excitement prevailed, and the glass in many windows was shattered.

Women, Isn't This Worth Believing?

Such cases as this of Mrs. M. F. Fozzy, of Campello, Mass., speak volumes.

She says: "I was very sick. I did not ever expect to get up again. Menstruations had stopped suddenly. The pains all through my body were terrible. As a last resort I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a box of her Liver Pills. I also used a package of her Sanative Wash.

"Relief came at once, and to-day I am a well woman. Menstruations regular, no backache, entirely cured of leucorrhoea and bearing-down pains. Nothing can equal Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines for women, young or old.

It cures permanently all forms of female complaints.

BY A Compromise agreement between Mr. John H. Bass and the Manager of The C. O. D., the Fac Simile of which has been photographed and reproduced below, it will become plainly evident to those people who said that all ideas of The C.O. D. having to give up their rooms to the First National Bank was a fake, and only used for advertising purposes will become dispelled. It is now only a question of a very short time with us when we will have to let the Bank People have possession of our place or failing to vacate on or before July 5th pay a rental of $1000.00 if we keep possession even for One day longer than the time limit set up in this agreement---Our stock of Spring, Summer and Winter Clothing, Hats, Caps and Furnishing Goods for Men and Boy's is yet quite large and Must be sold before the expiration of this time because we have no other room in view to go to, and besides as we stated before we have determined to quit business for good and therefore are determined to have not a dollar remain on our hands. To do this with so large a stock will require superhuman efforts and will necessitate one grand final and decisive step which means additional sacrifices. This we have determined to make---shall therefore from now on inaugurate a sale forgetting every thought of cost or value, the like of which has never been witnessed before in this century, and we doubt if it will ever be done again in the next. Come you, now, who have held off; it is the one grand extraordinary opportunity in your life to replenish your old Clothes with new ones at little more than cost of repairs of the former.

WILL YOU ALLOW IT, READERS!

TO see this magnificent stock to be packed up and shipped away from here to be sold on the auction blocks of some other city, there to be sacrificed as we propose doing right here now for your benefit, and ours too, the difference being if we have the sacrifising of it, we know something will be left us; whereas, once out of our hands, no telling what we will get. You can afford to take a hand in this picnic, because the benefit of the Sale here reverts to you as much as to us.

Don't delay till the stock is picked over, the benefit of Choice goes to the early callers; the prices are now marked to the lowest notch; less would mean nothing.

A Big Law Suit Averted.

That which promised at one time to end in a law suit has happily been settled outside of the courts by a compromise agreement between Mr. John H. Bass and the C. O. D. clothiers. A copy of this agreement has been photographed and reproduced in a full page announcement of this issue by the C. O. D. This is done to silence the silly twaddle that has been indulged in, whereby it was infered that the First National bank had not loaned the C. O. D. rooms, and that Mr. Bass knew nothing of any such lease. This published agreement, we trust, will set such gossip at rest and conclusively prove that who Mr. Lanfeely makes a statement to the effect that such is the case, and that the C. O. D. intends closing out its business, it is not done with the intention of misleading the public or committing an advertising fake. The reputation that this gentleman enjoys in our midst, for integrity and truthful statements, needs no guarantee on the part of any other proof connected herewith. It is but proper to state the announcement referred to made by the C. O. D. should crowd their store daily, because opportunities like this present themselves but rarely to buyers of clothing to obtain very much for very little.
